

THE CRADLE OF LIBERTY.

OUR object, in presenting this sheet to the public, is, to enable every one, from its cheapness, to become acquainted with Anti-Slavery principles and measures. It will be devoted exclusively to the subject of slavery, and composed of articles transferred from the columns of the Liberator, with occasional additions, under the editorial supervision of WILLIAM LLOYD GARRISON.

TERMS.—The CRADLE OF LIBERTY will be published every Saturday, at 25 Cornhill, at 75 cents per annum, for a single copy — ten copies to one address, for $6.00 — and any number above ten, will be at the low rate of 50 cents per single copy — always to be paid in advance.

Letters, relating to the pecuniary concerns of the paper, must be addressed, post paid, to OLIVER JOHNSON, General Agent, Boston.

Dear Friend.

In connection with this, I send you a few copies of "the Cradle of Liberty", a weekly Anti-Slavery paper, devoted exclusively to the subject of Slavery. At this time, a paper of this kind is very much needed, and it is hoped that you will take efficient measures to give it an extensive circulation.

The publishers have issued the paper at the cost of paper and printing, that every one who has a wish or willingness to become acquainted with the Anti-Slavery principles and measures, may, on account of its cheapness, have an opportunity.

I know of no means you can improve, which will do more for the cause of freedom, than introducing this little sheet into every family in your town, and should you adopt proper measures to obtain subscriptions, you will find but few unwilling to give fifty cents to learn the horrors of slavery, and its remedy.

If you have not one, two or three days at your disposal to devote to soliciting subscribers, consult with a few of the most zealous Abolitionists, throw you mites together, and employ some efficient friend of the slave to go through the towns calling upon every individual.

The publishers are unable to offer any compensation.

sation, as the object of the paper is not to get gain, but to disseminate abolition principles, and this to you, no doubt will be a reward.

It seems desirable to have as few names on our books as possible, to save expense in book keeping and hence it will be necessary that some individual in each town should act as agent: send on his name for as many papers as he wishes, with the money, agreeable to the prospectus, and have them directed to him in a package. The package can be sent by mail or private conveyance; if by the latter, much will be saved in postage.

Don't fail to attend to it immediately, and if you cannot act as agent, just pass this letter into the hands of the most efficient abolitionist in your town.

After you have thoroughly scoured the town in obtaining subscribers, it occurs to me that your society could not appropriate its money to a better purpose than by taking from 20 to 40 copies for gratuitous circulation.

Respectfully Yours, for God & the Slave.
Caroline Weston.
